If you are interested in using your degree and professional experience(s) to transform education from outside of the classroom, I would encourage you attend our information session to learn more about the Education Pioneers Summer Fellowship.

Education Pioneers recruits, develops, and connects top professionals to work for K-12 school districts, charter schools, and other education organizations in non-instructional roles. Fellows complete a 10-week summer placement using existing skills and experience to make the biggest impact. During their placement, Fellows participate in leadership development programming alongside a cohort of diverse peers designed to build the mindsets and K-12 knowledge necessary to become a change agent in education.

Position Overview:

Education Pioneers Fellows are placed in roles that typically focus on data analysis, project and program management, strategy, and operations. Previous Fellows have:

- Project managed the launch of a new charter school by directing the school's setup and developing efficient administrative systems
- Assisted in the expansion of a charter management organizations internship program by building partnerships with local businesses and non-profits while creating lesson plans for the school's career and college readiness course
- Led, designed, and built online, interactive data dashboards showing student performance over time
- Utilized teacher performance data to develop a mentorship programs pairing experienced educators with new teachers
- Researched local, state, and national education policies to identify best practices, including on issues of school choice, early childhood education, and school turnaround

The Fellowship provides hands-on, real-world experience as well as training in leadership skills and K-12 education issues. After the Fellowship, Pioneers gain the unique support and networking opportunities offered by EP and our robust nationwide network of more than 4,000 Fellows and Alumni. Over 70% of EP Alumni continue to work full-time in education and serve as senior managers three times the rate as their private sector peers.
