

In Memory of Leo

Leo, we remember you in Paris where your presence during many, many years has left unforgettable traces: Intellectual as well as emotional traces, both always linked. Your strength was your engagement when you were teaching seminars at the Ecole des hautes etudes en sciences sociales and initiating conferences at the Maison des Sciences de l'homme which your friend Fernand Braudel opened to you. You were the first to bring Russian colleagues at the time of perestroika to the MSH where Clemens Heller started with your help the first exchange program between Russian and French historians and social scientists which exists until today.

We remember your infinite generosity, your unique faculty, even gift to link the human with the intellectual and spiritual. We thank you for the warmth of your presence which will never leave us.

Your Parisian friends:
