

Rethinking Philosophy's Past, 1300-1800

February 17-18, 2017, Heyman Center for the Humanities, 2nd Floor Common Room

Co-sponsored by the Center for Science and Society and the Department of Philosophy

Friday, February 17

2:00pm - Creating the Modern Self: Medieval Women on Authority, Will, and Self-knowledge

Elizabeth Castelli (Barnard)
Holly Flora (Tulane)
Peter King (Toronto)
Christina Van Dyke (Calvin College)

5:30pm - Panel Discussion: Making our Philosophy Courses More Inclusive

Andy Arlig (Brooklyn College)
Colin Chamberlain (Temple)
Don Garrett (NYU)
Justin Steinberg (Brooklyn College)
Julie Walsh (Wellesley)

Free and open to the public,
registration required.

RSVP at bit.ly/philosophypast

Saturday, February 18

9:00am - Education and Women's Epistemic Authority, 1500 – 1800

Marguerite Deslauriers (McGill)
Lisa Shapiro (Simon Fraser)
Karen Detlefsen (Penn)
Sandrine Berges (Bilkent)

11:30am - Cavendish, du Châtelet, and Shepherd on the Metaphysics of Nature

David Cunning (Iowa)
Antonia Lolordo (UVA)
Marcy Lascano (CSULB)

3:45pm - Reflective Methodology: From Medieval Meditations to Early Modern Science

Bachir Diagne (Columbia)
Christia Mercer (Columbia)
Alan Stewart (Columbia)
Matthew Jones (Columbia)