

Scientists for National and International
Peace and Security (SNIPS) presents

EXTREME CLIMATE ADAPTATION

The Role of Science in Planning and Response

SNIPS is a graduate student organization dedicated to sharing research in the sciences and engineering with an interdisciplinary audience. We aim to foster cross-disciplinary research and collaboration on issues related to global peace and security.

Please contact Raha Hakimdavar at rh2527@columbia.edu for more information.

SPEAKERS

MEHA JAIN, PhD candidate in Ecology, Evolution and Environmental Biology, will present her research on the impact of climate variability in India and the multiscale adaptation measures by taken farmers.

AMIR JINA, PhD candidate in Sustainable Development, will discuss the interactions between global and local climate variations and their influence on human development in Bangladesh and Indonesia.

Thursday, 11/15, 4:30-6 pm
Philosophy 301

Light refreshments will be served.