Eligibility

Welcome to the Mexicans in Albuquerque and Tucson Integration Study (MATIS). This is an important project because we do not sufficiently understand Mexican life in the Southwest compared to what is known in bigger cities like New York and Los Angeles.

This is why we are reaching out to you. We are researchers at Columbia University, and we ask that you participate in a survey about life in Tucson or Albuquerque. The MATIS survey takes approximately 20 minutes and gives you the option to participate in a follow-up interview at a later date. Those that finish the survey will be entered into a raffle to win an iPad (5 available) or a $20 gift card (100 available). You can find more information about the project here and the lead investigator here.

Your responses for this survey are completely confidential, and you are free to refuse to answer any question with which you do not feel comfortable. You may also decide to withdraw from the survey at any point by simply closing your browser. Finally, you can take the survey in either in English or Spanish by changing the drop down at the top of your screen.

First, we need to ask you a few questions to see if you are eligible to participate in the study.

Are you 18 years or older?

- Yes
 No

Was at least one of your parents born in Mexico?

- Yes
 No

Where do you live currently?

Not Eligible

Sorry. You are not eligible to participate in the MATIS survey.

Informed Consent

Thank you for your responses. You are eligible to participate in the MEXICANS IN ALBUQUERQUE AND TUCSON INTEGRATION STUDY (MATIS). We need to tell you just a few more things before we start the survey.

This research project seeks to understand how living in Tucson and Albuquerque impacts the descendants of Mexican immigrants. There are no physical risks associated with participating in this study. Breach of confidentiality is always a risk with data, but a data security plan is in place to minimize this risk. Any information derived from this research project that personally identifies you will not be voluntarily released or disclosed without your separate consent. If you questions about the survey you should contact the director of this study, Francisco Lara-García at f.laragarcia@columbia.edu. If at any time you have questions or concerns about your rights or welfare as a research subject, you should contact the Columbia University Research Protection Office by phone at (212) 305-5883, or by email at askirb@columbia.edu.

You can view and download the full version of this information sheet at this link. We encourage you to download this sheet for your records.

By continuing with the survey you signal your consent to participate. We thank you in advance for your willingness to contribute to this project!
